SummerPalooza: Let's make the summer count

May 10, 2010 (Everett, WA) —Workforce Development Council Snohomish County and WorkSource Snohomish County will host SummerPalooza, a resource and job fair for high school youth on Monday, May 10, 2010 at Glacier Peak High School at 7401 144th Place SE in Snohomish, WA from 5 pm to 8 pm.

Employers and community organizations will be on site offering summer employment, internships, and volunteer opportunities for high school youth. Students from every Snohomish County high school are invited, and will come prepared to interview, fill out job applications, and hand over copies of their resumes.

In addition, workshops will be available on the subjects of perfect applications, dynamic resumes, and stellar interviews. Food Worker Card training will also be conducted at the event at 6:00 pm for a fee of $10 (cash only, please). Space is limited and late admittance will not be permitted.

SummerPalooza will provide our county's youth with valuable workplace experiences, while volunteer and internship opportunities will assist with college applications and senior projects. Let's make this summer count!

If you are a business with summer employment, internship, or volunteer opportunities for youth, consider attending this event. Register online at summerpalooza.eventbrite.com.

This event is free and open to the public.

Workforce Development Council Snohomish County (WDCSC)

WDCSC invests government and private funding to continuously increase the global competitiveness and prosperity of county workforce and businesses, fill current and emerging jobs, and provide full employment.
