I. Introduction

This Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) is entered into in the spirit of cooperation and collaboration by Workforce Development Council Snohomish County, hereafter referred to as “WDCSC” and WorkSource Snohomish County workforce development system signatory partners, hereafter referred to as “the WorkSource partners” to describe how their various funding streams and resources will be utilized to better serve their mutual customers, both job candidates and business, through an integrated system of service delivery. Another significant party in this agreement is the One-Stop System Site Operator. This Operator is chosen through a Request for Proposal process and voted on by the WDCSC Board. The Employment Security Department, ResCare Workforce Solutions and Refugee and Immigrant Services NW are the set of partners that make up the One-Stop System Site Operator, referred to as “Site Operator.”

The WorkSource Snohomish County workforce development system will be operated through a minimum of one comprehensive full service center. Through June 30, 2013 it is anticipated that services to adults will be delivered at the current WorkSource Everett and Lynnwood centers and services to youth will be delivered at the WorkSource Youth Center. In addition, services to any WorkSource customer may be received at any Affiliate or Connection location. An additional service portal, serving East Snohomish County, will open in Monroe in the fall of 2011.

Signatories to this agreement include all Resource Sharing Agreement (RSA) WorkSource partners as well as those community agencies and organizations who partner with the WorkSource system in a significant way. Those non-RSA partners will be responsible for articulating their participation in the WorkSource system on the appropriate signature page.

Integration

The following are the service integration partnership principles adopted by WorkSource Snohomish County and guide the efforts for operational practice of integration:

- Local partnerships are built upon trust, mutual benefit, and the shared belief that better service to customers is our shared priority.
- We believe that we can be more effective and produce more collectively and collaboratively than we can separately.
- We believe that by designing services that build on our collective strengths we can all benefit and better serve our customers.
- We agree on a service delivery system that is a win/win for everyone and in doing so agree to confer with each other within our network about our opportunities for new services or program opportunities.
- We will participate actively in activities that support the WorkSource Snohomish County Partnership.
- We agree to collectively work to meet our shared program outcomes.
- A model of integration is the preferred service delivery option.

a. Services to be provided

The purpose of the WorkSource Snohomish County workforce development system is to develop and maintain a quality workforce by serving as the focal point for all local and regional workforce investment initiatives. This will be achieved through the delivery of high quality and integrated workforce investment, education, and economic development services for youth, job candidates, incumbent workers, and businesses.

The WorkSource Snohomish County workforce development system provides first class universal access for job candidates to develop their careers, for business to find skilled workers, and for the community to build its economic health and vitality. Our fully integrated system provides customer choice, continuous improvement, and accountability for results.

Common responsibility for customer service delivery

Core service delivery will be developed and agreed upon by the partners at each location thereby ensuring consistent quality service on a day to day basis. The one-stop operator will be responsible for ensuring that all staff within each center function as part of a multi-agency shared services team. There are several specific operational steps that will be taken to ensure this coordination:

- The one-stop operator will be responsible for convening regularly scheduled center meetings that involve all partners in ensuring effective center operations.
- The one-stop operator will also coordinate the work of all partners to complete the one-stop application and certification process. This will include implementation of continuous improvement strategies and infusing the voice of business, job candidate, and youth customers, as appropriate, into these strategies.
- The one-stop operator will also be responsible for working with all partners to develop performance accountability reports for multiple fund sources and for presenting those reports as well as strategies for increasing productivity to those fund sources.

All business services are offered by a shared services team utilizing a coordinated approach throughout the WorkSource Snohomish County system. This approach allows businesses to access the entire system through one direct phone call or email. No matter where a business makes contact with the system, the contact is directed appropriately for a consistent response. This coordinated approach is used for the taking of job orders, job development, for related services such as Worker Adjustment Retraining Notification (WARN), Rapid Response, unemployment insurance, Trade Act training dollars, National Emergency Grants, and coordination with other core, intensive, and training services funded whether through Wagner-Peyser, WIA I-B, and/or another fund source.

Customer flow

WorkSource Snohomish County uses a seamless approach toward the delivery of core, intensive, and training services that is predicated on best practices for active, client-centered service planning that results in the delivery of Individual and Tailored Care. WorkSource Snohomish County provides first class universal access for job candidates to develop their careers, for business to find skilled workers, and for the community to build its economic health and vitality. Our fully integrated one-stop career development system provides customer choice, continuous improvement, and accountability for results.

The job candidate completes a comprehensive set of documents through which eligibility for WIA and Trade Act services can be determined, consents obtained, assessment conducted, and a single Individual Employment/Training Plan developed that guides the delivery of all services, regardless of the partner providing those services. All service delivery transactions are recorded on a single set of forms and all such transactions, regardless of the program financing a given service or benefit, are entered into the single, statewide, management information system, SKIES. Constant integration of resources to support staffing at an optimal client to staff ratio is an essential element of this delivery.

Integrated Service Functions

Front-End Services

Job candidate customers receive integrated screening and referral services funded by Wagner-Peyser, WIA Title I-B, and other funding streams at WorkSource centers. These services, offered in self-service and staff mediated formats include information on demand occupations, skill gaps, and access to real-time job information which is universally available as well as job listings.

Wagner–Peyser Act funded core services are provided by WorkSource Employment Security Department staff. These services include: assisting job candidates with finding employment, assisting employers with posting and filling jobs, facilitating the matching of job candidates with available job openings, participating in a system of clearing jobs between state agencies, and providing for the work test requirements associated with the unemployment insurance system. As noted above, staff write and post job openings requiring staff assisted screening to the State website at <http://go2worksource.com> and provide assistance to those business customers who prefer to list and screen their own job openings. The one-stop operator coordinates the offering of interview space at both centers to business customers and staff schedule pre-screened job candidates to attend. Businesses are also offered the opportunity to hold hiring events at the centers. As space is available, business customers may use our WorkSource centers for pre-employment testing and orientation sessions.

WIA and other program funded staff enhance the reach of Wagner-Peyser funded staff to ensure that universal access to these services is consistently available to all job candidate customers. Each partner must contribute to the delivery of core services at the center as negotiated through the budgeting process described above. Collectively, staff support customers in the resource room, provide orientations to system services, and deliver a single set of Job Hunter modules. Through these modules, job hunters learn how to find and get jobs. They complete job applications and prepare résumés that are utilized to support the screening, assessment, matching, and referral of job candidates to employment opportunities listed with the system through the job order taking process described above.

Within each center, there are job postings for unmediated job listings as well as access to those jobs that require mediated services. Mediated services means those job posting which requires a formal staff assisted referral. There are information stations which provide hard copy information on community resources and self-help guides to job search. In addition, there are Wagner-Peyser, WIA Title I-B, and other partner program staff in each lobby who provide concierge service to people seeking assistance as well as quick and easy facilitation to logical service connections. The range of application, assessment, testing, screening, and referral services offered to job candidates is depicted on the chart on the previous pages.

All core services offered in the centers are provided by Washington State Employment Security Department staff, Workforce Development Council Snohomish County subcontractor staff, and other partner staff. Workforce Development Council staff do not provide WIA-funded core services to businesses or job candidates except in exceptional circumstances on a temporary basis such as the provision of Job Hunter modules during a Rapid Response in-plant orientation. It should be noted that Workforce Development Council Snohomish County staff may participate in the delivery of core services when funded by additional resources (example: discretionary or non-WIA grants) that are brought into the system to enhance the menu of services available.

A leadership team comprised of staff from Washington State Employment Security Department, Workforce Development Snohomish County, and the one-stop operators for each center will work together to develop a plan for ensuring all staff working in the centers receive the training needed to ensure all understand clearly the roles of each partner and each staff and that all are able to participate in the coordination of these functions.

Skill Development Services

Skill development services are those by which job seeker customers may access self-service and staff-assisted offerings that enable them to identify their skills, identify skill deficits and other employment barriers, improve/increase their skills, and obtain and retain employment that uses their skills.

The Site Operator ensures that the following skill development services are offered:

- a) Labor market information, including information about targeted industry clusters, occupations in demand, and current job openings
- b) Information about community resources and supportive services
- c) Initial assessment
- d) Comprehensive assessment
- e) Employer-focused assessment
- f) Access to available short and longer term training opportunities within Snohomish County, the Puget Sound Region, and on-line
- g) Access to resources to facilitate contact with potential employers including computers, telephones, and facsimile machines
- h) Job search and placement assistance

The Site Operator ensures that the system coordinates with training providers to ensure that individuals participating in WIA-funded training are receiving the services and support they need to successfully complete training and transition into training related employment. One of the ways that this is done is through the Quarterly Training Provider Forum.

In addition, the WorkSource leadership works to ensure all staff are fully aware of other skill development services such as Work Experience, On the Job Training, Workplace Training and Apprenticeship programs. Referrals to an array of training services are important to serve the myriad of needs presented by job candidates. The Site Operator ensures that delivery of services and outcomes are documented in SKIES.

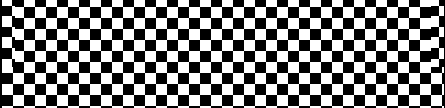

Business Services

WorkSource Snohomish County utilizes a multi-pronged approach to reach out to business. At the core level, the system widely disseminates products that prominently display the WorkSource brand. These products are also offered at events such as hiring events, job fairs, and resource fairs that are either developed or supported by WorkSource Snohomish County. Blueprint and system partners also sponsor events to raise business awareness of the system and its services.

The system engages in the following steps to identify businesses for intensive outreach:

- ❑ Conduct analyses of specific business use of the system to identify those using the system, by cluster.
- ❑ Compare businesses within targeted key industry clusters for number of openings against SKIES data on job candidates within those clusters.
- ❑ Target businesses within industry clusters identified for outreach and development based on meeting the following criteria: jobs in high demand occupations, jobs that offer high wages, jobs with high job candidate pool matches, jobs that offer benefits and jobs that offer professional development and career lattice/wage progression opportunities.
- ❑ Utilize skills panels to reach out to businesses.
- ❑ Assign staff to the business and provide current labor market data and cluster analyses for Snohomish County and customized reports as an outreach and marketing tool.
- ❑ Develop a relationship with the business, offering the full range of intensive and enhanced business services available through WorkSource Snohomish County.

The WorkSource Snohomish County system offers three levels of business services: core, intensive and enhanced services. These three levels of service are depicted in the chart below.

Core	Intensive	Enhanced
Unmediated listing of job orders - throughout partnership on job board and through electronic postings to which job candidates have direct access	Mediated listing of job orders, matching against database with a profile within 24 hours; job candidates only have screened access	Screened referrals to listing, active follow-up on referrals and active recruitment if there are an insufficient number of job candidates to refer
Employer can directly access job candidate pool electronically	Recruitment assistance; use of centers for mass recruitment, interviewing and prescreening of applications and resumes against employer-specified criteria	Testing, advertising, targeted recruitment, customized training, customized screening/assessment
Access to printed and electronic labor market information, tax information, announcements about upcoming seminars/workshops	Use of WorkSource center for hiring events, training activities, seminars, meetings	Retention services, career development planning
	Provision of comparative labor market data

Business services also include Rapid Response services coordinated with the statewide Rapid Response efforts consistent with Workforce Development Council Snohomish County and State Rapid Response policies. These services are provided by both WIA Title I-B funded staff who work in collaboration with Employment Security Department’s Business Services Manager and WIA Title I-B funded Business Services leadership.

WorkSource Snohomish County staff also offer On-the-Job Training to businesses in targeted industry cluster to address a lack of available job candidates. As noted above, staff also help businesses access other demand-driven training funds to meet their needs as indicated for new and incumbent workers.

Regardless of the target population selected, each individual trainee must meet the eligibility requirements for the relevant program(s).

Partners providing business services coordinate on the development of the Business Services Plan as referenced in local policy, #10-04.

Customer Referrals

It is agreed that all signators to this Memorandum of Understanding will conduct referral for services as appropriate. The point of contact for job candidates is the WorkSource staff person providing assistance.

SKIES will be utilized to provide tracking of referrals. Additional local services will be created in order to track referrals. A customer being referred to another partner will receive information from the staff on the reason for the referral, key contact information and next steps. Staff will then enter the referrals as a service in SKIES. Customers should be referred to a person within an organization as often as feasible.

Partners using SKIES will use this system to track incoming referrals and follow up as appropriate. A referral made to a partner who does not use SKIES will necessitate the staff to create an email or phone call to the partner with details about the referral.

Customer Complaints

It is agreed that all signators to the Memorandum of Understanding will follow the most recent WDCSC Customer Complaint policy as noted on the Council's website at <http://www.wdcsc.org/resources/policies/general.html>. This policy is incorporated herein by reference.

b. Funding for such services

For each site, the Resource Sharing Agreement serves as the foundation document for documenting the agreed-upon alignment of all resources including staff, facilities, and equipment to fulfill these functions. The cost sharing methodology for this Memorandum of Understanding is described in the Resource Sharing Agreements for each site. The Resource Sharing Agreement for WorkSource Everett and Lynnwood is based on the percentage of Full Time Equivalent employees in the partnership. The percentage may be adjusted quarterly by written agreement of the parties. The Resource Sharing Agreements are incorporated into this Memorandum of Understanding by reference.

At the subrecipient level, Workforce Development Council Snohomish County uses two mechanisms to determine how WIA funds are used for infrastructure, personnel, contracts, and other costs to provide required one-stop system core, intensive, and training services. These two mechanisms are the Request for Proposals procurement process and Resource Sharing Agreements.

Further, funding for core services will be provided by partner agreement at each location. Various methods of delivery are allowed in the WorkSource Snohomish County workforce development system including shared and direct services models.

Volunteers of America (VOA):

- VOA is universally recognized among human service providers as the primary community resource specialists in Snohomish County. VOA is highly interested in becoming a Connection Site that will be coordinated with a community resources drop in center. This will provide access points to services and resources within the WorkSource system as well as connect WorkSource customers to community resources and access to basic needs.
- Community partner referral and feedback system to assist customer access to WorkSource. This system provides a strong avenue for human service providers to connect customers in need of WorkSource services who will otherwise be reluctant to seek out services. In addition, the system provides a means for WorkSource staff to provide feedback to the referring partner regarding customer engagement and recommended job search plans. This system will be connected to VOA staff as well as their Connection site.

- In return, VOA will expand their role within WorkSource, which will in turn provide a more robust access to community resources where WorkSource customers have basic needs requirements to ensure they are employable.

III. Performance accountability

To meet the challenges of an innovation economy and a changing workforce, the WorkSource Snohomish County workforce development system must measure its performance, be accountable for results, identify opportunities for improvement, and continuously improve its performance.

The WorkSource Snohomish County system uses SKIES as the common databases for capturing relevant information. Workforce Development Council Snohomish County provides SKIES training and certification to all system users. Data Sharing Agreements are maintained which allow for non-Employment Security Department partner agencies to have direct access within the centers to this system. Washington State Employment Security Department and Workforce Development Council Snohomish County utilize Federal common measures and State core measures of accountability to evaluate program effectiveness and make continuous quality improvements.

Individual programs each have associated performance levels negotiated directly into each contract for service. Data on performance is collected according to those standards. Reports are made from that data to Washington State Employment Security Department and Workforce Development Council Snohomish County's Service Delivery Committee, Youth Council, Executive Committee, and Board of Directors. These performance standards are leading indicators for the Federal core indicators and common measures used to measure performance of workforce development programs nationwide.

Within this broad context, the WorkSource Snohomish County system has implemented common measures in all affected United States Department of Labor programs. Additional Department of Labor, Education, and Housing and Urban programs will be incorporated into this strategy if and when they are funded in the local area. For each phase, Washington State Employment Security Department and Workforce Development Council Snohomish County are taking the following steps to assure effective implementation:

1. Identify the data collection points that are unique to EMILE.
2. Develop instructions for SKIES data entry based on instructions from the State.
3. Revise policies and procedures regarding point of participation and exit for programs directly funded by Workforce Development Council Snohomish County. Coordinate these efforts for other programs with WorkSource system partners.
4. Develop revised leading indicators for managing performance for programs directly funded by Workforce Development Council Snohomish County. Coordinate these efforts for other programs with WorkSource system partners.
5. Work with Washington State Employment Security Department and site operator staff to revise service delivery staff desk aids and supplemental databases for managing performance.
6. With site operator staff, provide staff training for all relevant staff on changed definitions, policies, and procedures. (This training will be coordinated with any offerings provided by the State for Washington State Employment Security Department employees.)
7. Monitor implementation.

Management Indicators

The performance accountability system for WorkSource Snohomish County encompasses WIA Federal and State core measures, WIA Federal common measures, and Government Management, Accountability and Performance (GMAP) measures.

The system partners plan to use the reports generated by Washington State Employment Security Department regarding the data elements used in common measures and GMAP. These reports have been designed in agreement with the Washington Workforce Association and the Workforce Training and Education Coordinating Board and future changes or improvements to the reports will be based on mutual agreement between these organizations.

These reports will be regularly reviewed by WDCSC's Youth Council, Service Delivery Committee, Executive Committee, and Board of Directors as part of their routine periodic review of performance management data for services to customers of WorkSource Snohomish County. At individual site centers, reviews will be conducted as part of the regularly scheduled center meeting with the partners at that location. A summary report will be provided at WorkSource Snohomish County system oversight meetings. The team of oversight partners will review performance data on a regular basis to make system improvements as needed including changes to staff responsibilities, customer flow, business outreach, and other programmatic decisions. These data-driven decisions will be focused on improving performance on the WIA Federal and State Core Measures, Federal Common Measures, the above measures, partner goals and the objectives of Workforce Development Council Snohomish County.

WorkSource system partners and Workforce Development Council Snohomish County commit to work together with the Workforce Training and Education Coordinating Board and the Washington State Employment Security Department senior leadership team to ensure that site operators receive clear direction from Workforce Development Council Snohomish County that is well-aligned with the goals of the Workforce Training and Education Coordinating Board, Washington State Employment Security Department, and the Workforce Development Council Snohomish County Two-Year Strategic Plan.

The procedures must identify the appropriate local system and program complaint contacts and direct staff to ensure that customers interested in filing a complaint are referred to the appropriate complaint contact. Additionally, these procedures must include:
 - Procedures for assisting a customer interested in filing a complaint;
 - Procedures for referral to appropriate complaint contact;
 - Procedures for ensuring customer notification of the right to complain; and
 - Procedures for determining complaint jurisdiction and coordination when appropriate.
- Designate a local system complaint contact and a back-up complaint contact at each full service center and each affiliate site to appropriately route those complaints determined to be within a partner’s program jurisdiction to the partner’s program complaint contact. All program complaint contacts must be aware of applicable state and local program policies and this policy.

Data collection

The WorkSource Snohomish County workforce development system utilizes one data collection system for capturing the information needed to ascertain actual performance compared to the common measures, GMAP and specific partner outcomes.. The Services, Knowledge, and Information Exchange System (SKIES) is the statewide system utilized for capturing program-specific information on performance. There are 21 data elements that are, at a minimum, collected for every youth and job candidate customer accessing a WorkSource Snohomish County program-specific service. Additional data elements are collected as required for a specific program. The data collected provides the information needed for local management of performance using leading indicators for employment, skills gains, credentials attainment, earnings gains, and retention. The data also provides the information needed at the state level by the Participant Outcomes Data Consortium to access and use administrative records to create performance reports consistent with Federal protocols.

Continuous quality improvement

WDCSC utilizes both leading indicator data and State reports to strategically plan for the workforce development system in Snohomish County as a whole and to fulfill its responsibility to oversee both the WorkSource Snohomish County system and programs under Title I-B of the Workforce Investment Act. Indicators allow WDCSC and signators to this Memorandum of Understanding to identify areas of program strength as well as opportunities for improvement. The results are also utilized by system partners to establish priorities and outcome targets for continuous quality improvement at oversight meetings. At the partner, program, and system levels, strategies are developed and implemented to effect improvements.

The WorkSource Snohomish County workforce development system will continue to use a continuous quality improvement system and process that incorporates performance data as well as real-time customer satisfaction information gleaned from web-based tools that interface with system web-based products, exit interviews, and other processes to improve the quality, efficiency, and effectiveness of the services it provides to businesses, youth, and job candidates. Such improvements may be in the areas of facilities, equipment, partners, programs, services, business process design, or other quality improvement initiatives.

The data and information gleaned through all performance measurement processes are utilized by WDCSC to create performance-based interventions as indicated. Any variance of -15% on any leading indicator or a State report compared to target for any Federal or State performance indicator triggers a requirement for an intervention plan which includes analysis of challenges and strategies for improvement as well as intermediate targets, if appropriate. Variances above +15% above a specific goal may trigger a reevaluation of the program goals or project modification.

In this manner, the WorkSource Snohomish County workforce development system and all signators to this Memorandum of Understanding remain focused on the needs of business, youth, and job candidate customers and are accountable for the quality of system results.

The ultimate accountability and responsibility for the WorkSource Snohomish County system organizational processes, services, and accomplishments will rest with WDCSC, the WorkSource site operators and the WorkSource partners.

IV. Duration and modification

The signatories to this Memorandum of Understanding agree that the terms of this Memorandum of Understanding will take effect as of September 30, 2011, and will continue in effect until September 30, 2013. Termination of the Memorandum of Understanding will be effective in either of two situations:

- All partners agree in writing to its termination; or
- A motion to approve its termination is passed by WDCSC and ratified by the County Executive.

Any signatory to the Memorandum of Understanding may request modification of its terms. A partner seeking a modification to any element in the MOU must make a written request to WDCSC at least 60 days in advance. WDCSC will engage partners in any modification discussion. In cases where there is a significant or emerging project that takes immediate partner collaboration and coordination, WDCSC will convene a meeting of WorkSource Snohomish County partners to decide on a course of action including the project lead. Resultant requests for modification to the MOU will follow this same process.

Ratification of the request by all signatories will constitute the modification.

Any signatory to this Memorandum of Understanding may terminate their membership, giving written notice of its intent to withdraw as a signatory. In such case, all pertinent terms of the Memorandum of Understanding will continue in effect for the remaining signatories.

New signatories will be added to this Memorandum of Understanding as appropriate through addendum to this Memorandum of Understanding and addition of an authorized signature for the signatory being added to the terms of this document.

Any partner can choose to terminate their membership in the MOU at any time due to funding or operational infeasibility. This can be done with notice given to the WDCSC CEO. It should be noted that any partner in a certified WorkSource Center must be a member of this MOU agreement. Termination of membership is also a termination of a relationship with the WorkSource System.

Any disputes regarding the signature and execution of this agreement will follow the WDCSC Dispute Resolution policy incorporated herein by reference. A copy of this policy has been provided to all signatories.

Employment & Career Development Division

Addendum to Memorandum of Understanding

The principal role of the Employment and Career Development Division (ECDD) of the Employment Security Department (ESD) is to ensure the delivery of services authorized under section 7 (a) of the Wagner-Peyser Act. In addition to universal services to businesses and job candidates, the division is responsible for services and programs to special populations including veterans, unemployment insurance claimants, WorkFirst parents, dislocated workers, those with criminal conviction histories, farm workers and persons with disabilities.

The Workforce Investment Act of 1998 amended Wagner-Peyser envisioning a partnership in which labor exchange services (funded by Wagner Peyser allocations) are coordinated with other activities provided by other partners in a One Stop setting. Moreover, state Employment Service Offices providing labor exchange services may operate as affiliates in the local one stop systems, but not as independent offices. ECDD herewith provides the assurance that it will operate in good faith as a full partner in certified WorkSource Centers, or as WorkSource Affiliates where so designated by Workforce Development Councils.

In accordance with 20 CFR 652.215 and .216, ECDD complies with the Department of Labor regulations that require labor exchange services provided under authority of Wagner-Peyser, including services to veterans, be provided by public merit-staff employees of Employment Security. Furthermore, with the concurrence of the local Administrator(s), ES Area Director or Assistant Commissioner of ECDD, the department may agree, in the local Memorandum of Understanding, to have ESD staff receive guidance from the One-Stop operator and/or partners regarding the provision of labor exchange services, except that all personnel matters, performance and accountability of department employees must remain under the authority of the Employment Security Department and in compliance with any Collective Bargaining Agreement covering its employees.

Regarding the provision of employment programs and services under the responsibility of ECDD, there are three necessary principles the division holds as it joins in good faith with its partners to the MOU:

- In addition to the roles and responsibilities outlined in this MOU, ECDD will retain appropriate managerial control of programs it is directly responsible for, which are guided by its agency's strategic plan and its division operating plan.
- In addition to this MOU, ECDD will coordinate service delivery efforts with other MOU partners in each local area to the extent those services are also aligned with Workforce Administration policies; ESD senior leadership directives and guidance; and all contractual and legal obligations.
- ECDD expects shared costs to be allocated and funded according to DOL's One-Stop Comprehensive Financial Management Technical Assistance Guide; and will negotiate equitable sharing of financial risks associated with lease terms and resource sharing agreements to match the terms of the underlying obligation of the leaseholder.
